SUMMARY

I'm an Associate Software Engineer at Tito Solutions, building and maintaining full-stack web applications with Laravel, Vue, React, NestJS and TanStack. I use AI tools such as Claude Code, Cursor and ChatGPT to build features, debug, write tests and docs, and learn new stacks, and I review and test what they produce.

Cargo data extraction prototype Built in 3 days

I was assigned a prototype for a potential client's presentation with only three days to build it. I built a data extraction tool for a cargo forwarder, using Grok and Claude Opus models to help build the application. I tested it with real documents, compared the extracted data against the source, and reviewed the code. I presented it to the client, and they moved forward.
